ROY COOPER
GOVERNOR

WOMEN'S EQUALITY DAY

2020

BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, leaders from across our state and nation, both past and present, have fought for women to have the full rights and privileges, public or private, legal or institutional, that have historically been available to men; and

WHEREAS, women across the world have united to advocate for these rights and privileges for all people regardless of sex, race, religion, or socioeconomic status; and

WHEREAS, women in the United States have designated August 26, the anniversary date of the certification of the 19th Amendment, as a symbol of the continued fight for equal rights; and

WHEREAS, we also recognize that passage of the 19th Amendment did not grant voting rights for all women, particularly women of color, and the ongoing fight for voting rights continues today; and

WHEREAS, in 2020, we celebrate the 100th anniversary of women's suffrage and honor the women who helped pave the way, as well as the women who continue to fight for equal rights and representation; and

WHEREAS, equal participation of women in politics and government is integral to building strong communities and a vibrant democracy in which people of all genders can thrive, and to helping eliminate many disparities including systemic racism and sexism; and

WHEREAS, North Carolina women continue to fight for economic equality as well; according to the North Carolina Council for Women and Youth Involvement's Status of Women in North Carolina: Employment and Earnings Report, women comprise 51 percent of our state's population but earn an average of $8,600 less than men; and

WHEREAS, the North Carolina Council for Women and Youth Involvement, the League of Women Voters, and many other organizations continue to advocate for the rights of women, providing a voice of influence and guidance on the many issues women regularly face regarding health and wellness, voter participation, violence, education, and employment; and

WHEREAS, the State of North Carolina stands with women across our state and nation and encourages residents to commend and support organizations and activities that advocate for social progress and equality for all;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ROY COOPER, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do hereby proclaim August 26, 2020, as "WOMEN'S EQUALITY DAY" in North Carolina, and commend its observance to all citizens.
